

The NJ Telephone consumer Protection Act finally placed the residents in the State in a position where we had some control over our privacy at home. I think it is outrageous that our elected officials would even entertain allowing the telemarketing firms overrule the wishes and privacy of the residents.